On the face of it bushwalking should not be classed as recreation. It seems to be hard work. Why rough it when you can enjoy luxury? Why scrub-bash, climb mountains or walk miles when you can take it easy in so many places? Why..... If members were asked the reason that they bushwalk and why they enjoy it the answers would be vary varied. They could include - the company getting away from civilisation and out in the fresh air, photography, relaxation etc. No-one who has not reached the summit of a mountain (even if rain or mist have obscured the view) can appreciate the satisfaction of a bushwalker. It is true that the more you see, the more you want to see and the greater your knowledge of our countryside the more you want to know.

NOVEMBER 24th - BEACH PICNIC - BRIBIE ISLAND. Nominations close tonight so see Clare Maguire. You can 'phone her at 79-1631 to see if there are still vacancies. Full details given in the last circular.

This should be a weekend to cater for all tastes. There are several side gorges as well as the main gorge to explore. There is good swimming in the lovely creek. will be told the successful candidate in the next circular. Also listed will in General.

At time of writing of circular Gavin Clancy was still in ward 4G of Princess Alexandra Hospital with two broken bones in his left ankle following a fall into a miniature gorge near Ivory's Rocks on the Club trip of the 27th October.

Ray Fairfield recently passed through Brisbane on his way to New Guinea for a two year term with the Forestry Department there. Leon Buchanan is on his way to Bangkok and Hong Kong for the balance of his holiday. Madonna Stratford is again relieving in Toowoomba and Roma.

Members have probably noticed with interest the latest book of Bernard O'Reilly published recently.

One of the things most talked about following the Campbell's Folly trip will be PIGS. If you haven't heard about them, just ask someone who was on the trip. A select few will look more carefully for prickly pear after sitting on leaves of it on the way down Ivory's Rocks.

Apparently the Tasmanian party found snow followed by rain made "floating" tracks in the Cradle Mountain National Park. They were asked to leave the lounge of Hotel at Derwent Bridge - wonder why?

STOP PRESS - Gavin has a pin in his ankle now and will probably be in Hospital until the end of November.

Jack Josefski leaves for Sydney on the 6th December and returns for his wedding to Ann Byrne later in the month.
