Cooloola National Park is on the south-central Queensland coast, east of Gympie. It provides an excellent wilderness trial through scribbly gum forest, wildflower plains and the low stony hills of the Noosa River's western catchment. An excellent time for the superb wildflower displays and a dip in the waterholes, one will be our overnight camping spot.

Christine will be starting from East Mullen going South to Harry's Hut, Whilst Patricia will be going in the reverse direction, South to North. Most of the terrain is reasonably flat with a good track. Beginners will find this an easy throughwalk. Packs and tents can be hired from the Club or

Time:	1:00pm Saturday
Meet at:	Sullivan & Nicolaides
Grade:	S24
Cost:	$15.00 (plus camping fee)
Emerg Off:	Dolans (3843 4116)

The eruption of the Mt Warning volcano would have been one of the biggest volcanic events in Australia in the last 200 million years. Mt Warning rises 1157m and because of its height and eastern location, is the first part of the Australian continent to receive the sun's rays at dawn. The mountain was named by Captain James Cook in May 1770 as he sailed up the coast. He used it as a reference point to the shoals and breakers off point danger.

Leaving Brisbane Saturday afternoon we will drive to Murwillumbah where we will camp overnight at the Mt Warning Caravan Park. Sunday morning we have a short drive to Breakfast Creek picnic area where we will start the walk

We will follow a graded track that will take us to the summit of Mt Warning. Along the way we will pass some interesting vegetation including Flame Trees, Flooded Gums and the occasional Red Cedar. The forest opens up and as we get higher up, we should see some ferns and mosses and also Coachwood, Brush Box and Walnut Trees. We will lunch on the summit of Mt Warning and we should get some wonderful views from the summit.

The trip distance is approximately 8.8km return. This is an interesting area to visit so nominate to me at the meeting.

Time:	TBA
Meet at:	TBA
Grade:	M44
Cost:	$20 Fuel and camping fees

The Conondales are a range of mountains situated behind the North Coast not far from the town of Kenilworth. Made up of rainforest and eucalyptus ridges the Conondales offer many great walk itineraries. The plan is to do a two day throughwalk probably walking up one creek and down another. More details at the meeting.

Cost: $25:00 Emerg Off: Dolans (3843 4116)

Booloumba Creek is situated behind the North Coast and should be a great place to spend a summer's weekend. At this time I have not yet done the pre-outing but the plan is to head up to the camping grounds on Friday evening. There are toilets, reticulated water and BBQ's available. On Saturday I am hoping to do two short walks -The Gold Mine Circuit in the morning, a walk of about 3km which visits an old gold mine site. Following this we will walk to Booloumba Falls and The Breadknife for lunch and a swim. On Sunday I would like to do the walk to Mt Allan. There is a fire tower on the summit that gives some great views of the surrounding area.

Coomera Crevice 15 November 1998 Day Walk

Leader:	lain Renton (3395 7665)
Time:	8:00am
Meet at:	The Old Windmill
	Wickham Tce
Grade:	M44
Cost:	$12.00
Emerg Off:	Dolans (3843 4116)

It'll be the day after the Progressive Dinner, so we won't be doing anything too strenuous. We'll start by taking a bit of the Illinbah Circuit down to the Coomera River, then walking up the Coomera River up the gorge, perhaps as far as the falls at the end. Having looked down on the river from the now closed Coomera Circuit, I'm sure it'll be a guite dramatic location.

I haven't done the pre-outing yet but I assume there'll be a fair bit of rockhopping. It should be quite cool walking by the river. The most strenuous part will probably be the walk back up from the river to the car park (we'll be going back the same way we went in). See you there.

"Progressive Dinner" Saturday 14 November 1998

7pm TBA Venue: $10:00 $5:00 (if you bring a plate)

This year's theme for our annual progressive dinner is "A Day at the Races". Come dressed for the occasion - as a jockey, a horse trainer, one of the "beautiful people" attending the races or perhaps you might like to come as a horse! What ever you like will be appropriate.

We are calling for volunteers to provide entertainment for the evening - so if you would like to sing a song, dance a jig, recite a poem or put on a "Red Faces" item, let us know so we can program you into the evening.

As yet we do not have a definite venue but will be able to let you know definitely at the October meeting. If you are unable to attend the meeting please ring Gabe or Majella for information.

We will be asking everyone to bring a plate of some sort for the evening - so decide what you would like to bring and let us know or alternatively give us a ring and we'll let you know what to bring. Remember this is our BIG social event of the year. so book it into your calendars and we shall see you there!!!

PAST OUTINGS

Logan's Ridge Overnighter 1 -2 August 1998 John Carter

In the footsteps of Logan ...

Eighteen members and visitors arrived at the base of Logan's Ridge by the 7am starting time on a cloudy morning, which at least meant pleasant temperatures during the day. We had come to remember the 170th anniversary of the first climb of Mt Barney by Captain Logan. He had been accompanied for part of the journey by Allan Cunningham and Charles Fraser. It was also the 20th anniversary of a similar climb by the club. Soon after the start the leading group saw a Wedge Tailed Eagle drinking at a farm dam before it flew away, which was very unusual. We followed the ridge line for an hour until we reached the rock slopes, where we had a break. We quickly gained height as we scrambled over rocks and there were only a couple of instances where there was some difficulty experienced. At the main saddle we had morning tea and soaked in the views, which were quite good. One could almost touch North Ridge on the other side of Rocky Creek.

Near the summit, we decided to bypass the exposed final climb and contoured north along a ledge to a gully which led to the summit. The climb had taken six hours and we all appreciated lunch. Before we left, a group photo was taken. To save time, the group descended off East Peak via South-East Ridge. The descent took over four hours and a number of us arrived on the road in twilight. It was a big day.

After the walk some of us returned to Barney Lodge for a cuppa which was most appreciated. Thanks to Justin for being Tail-End-Charlie, for everyone for coming along and helping each other climb the mountain, especially John Brunott. The climbers were Majella, June, Anne, Maxine, Trevor, Michael, Matthew, Barry, Chris, Iain, Joe, John B, John, Justin, Russell (Ipswich Catholic) and two friends of Barry (who did very well).

Wilsons Peak Sunday 30th August Richard Kolarski

All week it had been raining on and off and I had a few calls to see if the walk was still on. There was a rough standby plan if it did rain but luckily it wasn't necessary. The day dawned clear with only a few clouds. The six of us, Patricia, Anne, Paul, June, Michael and myself met at Gailes and after a short stop to fill up with petrol, drove on to Boonah. Wilsons Peak stood out clearly as we drove on to Teviots Gap. We stopped at the Gap to admire the falls which were impressive after the recent rain. Anne left her car there and we crammed into the one car to do the short car shuttle so that we could go up the western side and down the northern side of Wilsons Peak.

The walk up the western ridge follows the rabbit fence and is quite easy initially as we follow the service road. However the terrain soon became too steep for vehicles and the road turned into a loose, slippery, narrow walking track. In some places we had to drag ourselves up by holding on to the rabbit fence. However, we all exercised extra caution when one of the group stated that a bushwalker in one of the other clubs had amputated a finger on a rabbit fence recently. We stopped frequently to catch our breath and admire the views.

At the base of the cliff we had a short stop for morning tea. We then contoured round to the left and soon came to the break in the cliff which led to the summit. June almost pulled out at that stage as she thought she wouldn't be able to do it. But she wasn't allowed to quit, and, with many helping hands, we finally all stood at the summit. Another 100% success rate to add to the walks I had led up the Cougals and Boyd's Butte!

Coming down the north ridge was also steep and very loose. The old unmaintained rabbit fence here had been recently pulled down so there were no hand holds available. A few of the group had undignified falls onto their posterior but only their pride was hurt. The last section of the walk went through eucalypt forest and this was a pleasant change after the rainforest. A recent fire through this area made the walking track stand out clearly and we made good time. We arrived back at the car about 1:30pm and some of the group finally had their lunch. The rest of the afternoon was spent doing a car circuit around Wilsons Peak by going back via the White Swamp road and having a coffee stop in Boonah. I would like to thank Anne for using her car and to all the others for making this a very enjoyable walk

Rainfall Worriers Part One: North Queensland Extended Trip Richard Kolarski

September School Holidays and a chance to head away from Brisbane for an extended trip to North Queensland. I had worked for over ten years on and off in the northern half of the state and had been a member of the Mackay and Cairns Bushwalking Clubs. Among the many walks I had done, Mt. Dalrymple in the Eungella Range, west of Mackay, was one of my favourites. Besides being almost guaranteed to see platypus in the wild at Broken River, it involved a 4 to 5 hour walk off the beaten track, through virgin tropical rainforest with a superb 360 degree view from a large rocky slab at the summit. I was more than happy to head off north and lead a walk in this pristine area.

John, June, Matthew, Kerry, Patricia and I had arranged to meet at the Broken River camping area on Monday, the 21st of September. Unfortunately, you can not have a rainforest without rain, and the north had had record falls. An alternative campground at Broken River had been closed after being covered in a layer of silt from flooding about a month previously, and it was still raining! Though it was raining on top of the range, it was only overcast in the valley, as Patricia and I drove up to meet the others. The other four looked a bit waterlogged in their campsite and I don't think anyone was keen to do a two day walk in the rain with no views. After some discussion we decided to do a walk in Finch Hatton Gorge instead. (Finch Hatton was an early settler there and the brother of the real-life character played by Robert Redford in the movie "Out of Africa".)

We thus drove down the range and into the picnic area of Finch Hatton Gorge. It had been over 12 years since I had walked along the Gorge to see the waterfalls and the changes were very evident. One of the walks which led to a waterfall at which there had been several accidents, (including yours truly), was no longer graded or marked. The graded track now only went to the first two falls, and this track had been substantially upgraded with steps, railings and boardwalks.

After donning our day packs and rain gear we set off. About a kilometre down the track we took the side-track to Araluen Falls where a few hardy people were having a swim. After the rains, the falls were in full force with the water thundering down. Having taken the obligatory photos, we continued up the Gorge and arrived at Wheel of Fire Falls which were even more spectacular. We stopped here for morning tea and a short scramble up the rocks to get an even better view of the falls. Then the pleasant walk back to the picnic area where we had our lunch and naturally talked about the weather. Patricia and I had other commitments and would not be able to go with the others to climb up Mt Bartle Frere, the other major walk planned for the holidays.

As we did not get to walk up Mt Dalrymple this time, I'm planning another trip for next year. Anyone interested?

INIEKESI

A note on Killarney Glen...

The following is an extract from a letter sent to the club from the Principal Solicitor for the Australian Government Solicitor regarding Killarney Glen.

... I am instructed to advise that there is no general Commonwealth permission for the public to enter Killarney Glen or any other part of the Land Warfare Centre. I must advise that unauthorised access of this nature constitutes trespass. ...

A note from the Department of Environment...

...regarding a change to procedures for issuing camping permits...

In early October, the three self-registration camping permit stands at Mt Barney National Park will be converted to information stands and there will no longer be a self-registration camping permit facility for this park. All camping permits will now be issued by the rangers at the Boonah office.

...regarding the removal of Mt Chinghee Plane Wreck...

In late August, the wreckage of the plane which crashed in Mt Chinghee National Park in May was removed. This was done as a result of experience in Lamington and several other national parks, where serious management problems have resulted from plane wrecks attracting inexperienced walkers. This has resulted in recurrent search and rescue problems and the wreck sites becoming foci of environmental degradation.

For further information on these matters see the secretary who has a copy of the relevant letters.
