REPORTS

President's Report

Happy new year to all members. The club is commencing its forty-first year. I would like to encourage members to continue being active within the club. Any club requires a lot of people to give freely of their time for it to operate effectively. In our club, this requires members to lead walks, assist in organising activities and overseeing operations as a committee member.

At the February Annual General meeting, elections will be held for all committee positions. Please give consideration in standing for a position, as some current committee members will be stepping down for different reasons. For the smooth operation of the club all positions should be filled. In addition, the outings and social secretary receive assistance from sub-committees, so to make their important jobs a little easier. Nomination forms are included with this magazine.

John

Our greatest glory is, not in never failing, but in rising every time we fall. (Confucius 500 BC)

Why not beat the heat and crowds and join me for an enjoyable walk at O'Reillys. The walk is approximately 14kms. We head down to Blue Pool, passing a patch of stinging trees (to be avoided!) and some small waterfalls and interesting trees, including red cedars.

At Blue Pool, we will have a refreshing break for morning tea and a swim. Although Stairway Falls is less than 4kms return from Blue Pool, the track crosses Canungra Creek six times in each direction. It also crosses a smaller creek, 14 creek crossing all up.

I have walked the Blue Pool track recently, but owing to an injury I have been unable to pre-out the walk to Stairway Falls. I am assured there is no problem getting there. Please nominate for a pleasant day out.

Grade:

This is the Sunday of the year we hit the streets of Graceville to collect funds for our favourite charity, The Little Kings Movement For The Handicapped. The club maintains an active interest in LKM. They have let us use their premises many times for meetings, functions, and as a meeting point for walks, and in exchange we help them once a year with their annual collection. The funds raised on this day contribute ALL YEAR to the running costs of this charity. You probably all know that they play an active part in the lives of many intellectually and physically disabled people, in fact any person who needs help is welcome there.

Please come along and help us on the day. Any time you can spare would be gratefully appreciated. Many club members and visitors have come over the years and enjoyed the experience. Perhaps its your turn this year? Last year we did not get many collectors from the schools to help us, so I hope club members will strongly support our collection this year. Thank you.

COFFEE NIGHT

Wednesday 27 January
7.30PM
Freestyle Tout
19 Nash St
Rosalie

This cafe is in the new cafe/restaurant strip developed at Rosalie. Please give me a call if you need a lift or have any queries (PH 3369 7330 after 7.30 pm).

Valley Pavement Cultural Stroll
6 February
8am
California Cafe
Cnr McLachlan St and Brunswick
Sts, Valley

Start with us at breakfast at the California Cafe and be treated to the biggest breakfast you can find save at a truckie's stop. This cafe still has its 1950's milk bar decor, and sets the tone for a very interesting day in the Valley. You'll need a big feed because we will be walking until we drop. After satisfying our sense of taste, there are sights and smells to absorb. There are street markets to explore, Chinatown stores, and art galleries galore such as Fire-works, Gilchrist, Jan Murphy, Fusions, and Philip Bacon galleries, Boab, New Farm Art, Gallery 482.....The list goes on. And if art is not your cup of tea, we will move straight on to good old Australian history and explore the heritage of the area, thanks to the BCC historical guide to the area. There are churches, old pubs, houses and apartments from various periods in our history, homes of the gentry, parks, and the river all on view in this area comprising the Valley and New Farm. In between, we will stop for refreshments and food as this is an all day excursion for the dedicated, and would be rated hard by any bushwalker's standards!! Come along for an hour, a morning, or the day and enjoy yourself absorbing the attractions of inner city Brisbane.

Movie Night

Tuesday 9 February

Please phone the answer machine (3393 5545) from the Sunday prior to the movie night. The movie, theatre and time will be given. Please hang up once you have heard the message.

PAST OUTINGS

Daves Creek Cct Sunday 13 December Majella Robertson

Considering the lack of information available to prospective walkers regarding this walk, we had a great showing. We left Brisbane individually and all arrived at Binna Burra about 9am and started walking pretty much straight away.

Daves Creek Cct is a lovely walk and we walked through a variety of vegetation. We stopped for morning tea at a small waterfall, although very little water was falling. We continued to follow the track around and saw some spectacular views. Some climbed Surprise Rock and a few even managed to clamber across it and down the other side.

We completed the circuit before we had lunch, opting to lunch at Tullawallal, a small hilltop grove of beech trees. This was a lovely spot.

We returned to Binna Burra by about 2:30ish, had a coffee and headed home.

Many thanks to those who came along, Justin, Sue and Mary, John, Ray, Elizabeth, Trevor and Michael.

Mt Tamborine Sunday 27 December 1998 John Carter

After a late flurry of nominations, fifteen met at the visitor's centre on Tamborine Mountain at 9 AM. It was a going to be a warm day, but I had planned walks to local waterfalls. The first walk was to Witches Falls (Queensland's first National Park). As we followed the graded track Michele slipped and badly injured her right ankle. While some made her comfortable, Graham and I went to the ambulance station and arranged for assistance. Within half an hour an ambulance officer arrived, with two others not far away. At this point, Greg and Liz stayed behind while the remainder of the group continued on to the Falls.

Recent rain ensured good flows in the creeks, which were cool. After Witches Falls and smoko we drove to The Knoll NP. We followed the circuit track to Cameron Falls, which is a very high direct drop to the valley. The creek above the falls meandered through beautiful rainforest. After the walk we enjoyed a relaxing lunch in the picnic ground and watched the antics of the local kookaburras and scrub turkey.

We crossed over to the eastern side of the plateau to Palm Grove NP. We undertook the Burrawang and Jenyns Falls circuits. Burrawang Lookout had impressive views of the Gold Coast. The falls were very pleasant with a cool breeze. The circuit track moved in and out of the rainforest which was very impressive with an extensive palm forest and some very large trees. We completed the walk after 4 PM. In all we did about 12 kms during the day. Some of us then headed to a cafe near Curtis Falls for a well deserved refreshing drink. The drive home was uneventful.

It was a very enjoyable day and I would like to thank all those who walked Don, Robyn, Liz Richards, Justin, Sue, Mary, Jim Herron, Greg, Michele, Lucy, Stephen, Pam, Graham and Louise Rea. Michele has a slight fracture and will be in plaster for some weeks.

Border Ranges Basecamp 31 December 1998 to 3 January 1999 Gabriel Romaguera

What a great way to finish the old year and start the New Year. We headed off on New Years Eve to Sheepstation Creek to battle with other campers to find a site for our weekend. It was very popular and we were lucky to find somewhere to pitch our tents. The rain held off until our tents got up and then proceeded to rain heavily for 2 days and 3 nights!! By the end of the weekend the campsite and tracks were a quagmire but we saw what we wanted to, and the weather made the forest, creeks and falls look their very best.

On the first night walkers arrived in 2 groups. By 9pm (QLD time) the troops were massed for drinks and nibbles by the fireside in the rain. Thanks Jean for the lovely carrot cake you brought to celebrate my birthday. The campsite was very subdued for New Years but we decided to celebrate it 2 times for NSW and Qld. Next day we did a car shuffle to start our walk at Forest Tops and walk downhill via the Booyong track to Sheepstation Creek. This included a detour to do the Rosewood Circuit. It was very pleasant with lots of birds to spot not to mention leaches. The most I've ever seen on a walk. Silly me, I walked straight over the head of a brown snake, but fortunately we parted friends! Past an enticing swimming hole, Lophostemon Falls and a rock wall bearing names and dates carved by bullockies in the last century.

A relaxing arvo with a warm cuppa around camp. Christopher had arrived by this stage. We claimed a shed with a fireplace, which we shared with some other campers - it was warm and snug. It was a nice atmosphere and by night it felt like a real party with food and good stories to share with our new friends. It was a treat to spot a bandicoot and a Tawny Frog Mouth at the edge of our camplight during the night. Jean and Helen were forced to use the shed to sleep in also as their tent had just about floated away.

Next morning I got up in the teeming rain to find out the troops were talking about when they would go home that day... Working on the divide and conquer principle, most were talked into staying on for the whole weekend. We did another car shuffle to do our walk upstream from Brindle Creek picnic area up to the Antarctic Beech picnic area. Unfortunately it was also uphill but the troops needed to flex those leg muscles. The scenery today was magic with idyllic creek crossings, huge antarctic beeches, mosses and ferns and fungi growing everywhere. Everyone loved it. We saw the local crayfish on the track which is a strong red colour and large in size. Lots of plants in flower which took our mind off the leaches! The roads in the area were treacherous being muddy, potholed and wet. Our vehicle used in the shuffle went for a slide in the arvo and our lives flashed before our eyes as we slewed from one side of the road to the other. Thanks Casey for your excellent defensive driving techniques.

We got home early arvo for a late lunch. Maxine arrived at this stage bearing another birthday cake (home-made). It was Casey's 21st birthday today. We proceeded to pretty ourselves up to head in to Kyogle for mass that evening and a 21st celebratory meal at the Kyogle pub. It was a pleasant break from the wet weather. The locals at mass were warm and friendly to us - they reckoned they hadn't had such substantial rain for 10 years.

Sunday dawned - well not exactly. Still cloudy but the rain had stopped!! Maxine and I went down to the waterhole for a swim and then we pulled up camp and said goodbye to our fireside friends. We were going to follow the Tweed Scenic Drive out of the forest. First stop was the Tweed Pinnacle. It was a short strenuous walk out to the pinnacle but the clouds cleared for fantastic views along the Tweed Range and across the mountain range forming the Queensland border, originally the rim of a huge volcano. All were happy we'd stayed the extra day for this alone. It was also good to look back to see what we'd walked out on, and the steep slopes of the pinnacle cloaked in a mass of greenery. With clouds moving across the countryside, hitting the pinnacle in between clear patches, the scenery looked fantastic. On to the Barr Mountain area for a short walk and lunch. Then we headed to Natural Arch via Murwillumbah for a short walk around the falls and a coffee. The drive out this way was absolutely beautiful. We arrived back in Brisbane about 7pm that night after a fantastic break from the real world.

Thanks to everyone who came to make it a great weekend: Trevor, Casey, Scott, Helen, Jean, Chris, Maxine, and Michael. Hope to see you on another basecamp soon!!

A note of thanks...

Thank you to all who contributed to this month's magazine. Happy reading.

▲ Spicers Gap road, a reminder of colonial engineering and early pastoral settlement, is now protected in a conservation park on Main Range south-west of Brisbane.

▲ Spicers Gap Road Conservation Park 116km south-west of Brisbane protects a hand-built road with an important place in Queensland's history.

The road was built with funds from locals in 1847, providing a link between the Darling Downs and Moreton Bay. Government-funded road works were done in the 1850s and 1860s.

The surviving 1.6km section can be accessed on foot from Governor's Chair lookout in Main Range National Park.

Examples of nineteenth century road construction still visible include macadamised surfacing, corduroyed areas and stone pitching. The road is a fine example of colonial engineering and achievement, and a reminder of early pastoral settlement.

The 6.5ha conservation park is surrounded by Main Range National Park, in the Central Eastern Rainforest Reserves (Australia) World Heritage Area (CERRA). As well as protecting the worlds' most extensive subtropical rainforest and warm temperate rainforest, CERRA protects many cultural heritage sites such as Spicers Gap road.
