MONTHLY CIRCULAR OF THE BRISBANE
CATHOLIC BUSHWALKING CLUB

-- FEB 1987

UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF OUR LADY OF THE WAY

Registered by Australia Post

Publication No. QBH 2328

WHAT'S TO COME ---

CUTINGS: All our outings leave from the back of the Cathedral in Charlotte Street. Day walks from the street, but Overnight ones from inside the yard behind the Catholic Centre, near St. Stephen's statue. Departure times are shown for each walk. The Club will organise transport on the walk for you.

FEBRUARY, 16th Monday:

Monthly Meeting. This is more than the monthly meeting. You get your monies worth. It's the A.G.M. as well. Come along and vote. Also come along and pay your subs - $15.00. See us, talk to us, meet us. After all, the coffee is free. Doors open at 7.30pm.

FEBRUARY, 19th, Thursday:

Bush Dancing Practise. Enough of us have come along over the past four months to make this a BIG night. Ask Desley, Wayne, Loretta, Michele, Paul, Nathan, Liz ... They will tell you how easy it is. Meet at 8pm inside the Blind Hall, corner Stephens Road and Vulture Streets, South Brisbane.

FEBRUARY, 22nd, Sunday:

Come all, to the International Arrivals at Eagle Farm Airport, Qantas Flight QF56, 5.25pm.

FEBRUARY, 22nd, Sunday:MT. ALEXANDER - Daywalk

Date : 22nd February
Leader : Joe Finn (844 2807)
Cost : $7.00
Meeting Time : 7.30am
Meeting Place : Outside Cathedral grounds in Charlotte Street
Emergency Officer : Tim Apelt (343 4625)

Mt. Alexander is more of a hill than a mountain so if this outrageously hot weather is still around, this walk - with its lovely breezes, scenic views and easy slopes - should be a nice day's outing. The views from the top take in Mts. Lindesay, Ernest, Barney and Maroon to the west, and to the east O'Reilly's and Mt. Roberts to name but a few. The dirty brown stain on the horizon to the north is Brisbane (there are better places to be!)

This is a good walk with plenty of time for a chat and a long lunch in the shade on top of the Mount, easy slopes and even a paddle in a running stream at the end to cool tired feet.

The walk does have some spear-grass so bring your sock-guards if you have them. Those without, be prepared to spend some time after the walk picking spear-grass out of the weave of your socks. Also, bring 2 litres of water as it does get rather thirsty.

... Joe

FEBRUARY, 28th/MARCH, 1st:

BUSHRANGERS CAVE - Location: Gold Coast Hinterland/N.S.W. Border

Date : Saturday, 28th February/Sunday, 1st March

Leader : Nathan Tobin (260 5065)

Cost : $8.00

Meeting Time : 7.15pm - after 6.30pm mass at Cathedral

Meeting Place : Inside Cathedral grounds

Emergency Officer : Cathy McDonnell (349 5702) - remember if you are running late, ring Emergency Officer;

On Saturday night we will drive down to the Numinbah Border Gate where a car shuffle will be undertaken by the drivers while the main party of walkers will do an hour's walk into Bushrangers Cave along the border fence. This is easy. Arriving at Bushrangers Cave, which is a large rock overhang (there is no need for tents, just sleeping bags). We will set up camp and a billy will be boiled for those who want to wait for the drivers to come in.

On Sunday, we will follow a well-worn track up to Wagawn where a break will be taken. This is quite an easy track up and the hardest part of the walk will soon be over. After a break we will walk along the graded track under the cool rainforest canopy to the Daves Creek/Surprise Rock circuit. On the way we will visit Araucaria Lookout for the splendid views. Leaving here to head off to Daves Creek Circuit and Numinbah Lookout (where you can see across Numinbah Valley to Springbrook), we will continue around to Surprise Rock for lunch - a great spot indeed. After lunch, it's on to the main border track to stroll through the many different types of vegetation while catching glimpses of the valley below.

This is a medium overnighter, the only difference being a walk in Saturday night to camp at a truly beautiful spot. You will need to carry your sleeping bag and ground sheet, plus breakfast (preferably a cold one) and lunch. Also carry 3 litres of water, one for breakfast and two for the walk.

So, nominate to me if you wish to go on a truly beautiful walk. This walk gives you the chance to enter Binna Burra from the back door. Come along and we'll see you there.

... Nathan.

MARCH, 6/8th Fri/Sunday: BOONOO BOONOO - Basecamp

Date : Friday 6th/Sunday 8th March

Leader : Justin Tobin (260 5065)

Cost : $15.00

Meeting Time : 7.15pm Friday

Meeting Place : Inside Cathedral grounds near Catholic Centre

Emergency Officer : Liz O'Reagan (355 5342)

Let your mind wander to rustling waterfalls, cool swimming holes, water running over granite, sitting around the campfire beneath the stars ... Then picture the alternative: hot, polluted Brisbane, another weekend in the city push, Saturday night around the T.V. eagerly waiting for the Gold Lotto result ... I know where I'd rather be ----- and I want you to share this wet granite wilderness area with me.

Leaving Brisbane Friday night to camp with the throughwalkers at Boonoo Boonoo Falls, we then spend Saturday morning exploring the falls. A track leads to the bottom of the falls where we can see them at their best. Huge granite boulders abound here - plenty of time for a swim. Lunch on top of the falls then the afternoon spent exploring Bald Rock - a huge granite monolith, a geological wonder providing great views of Girraween and surrounding area. Then we drive down the Middle Road to camp on the Boonoo Boonoo River for a night of feasting, entertainment and relaxation around the campfire beneath the stars.

/ Sunday

On Sunday morning we'll be exploring the middle reaches of the river, where there's plenty of swimming holes and interesting pools.

This is an easy, enjoyable basecamp - capable of everybody and your chance to discover the magic of two nights in the bush. This is one of the easiest and enjoyable basecamps there will be --- answer the call --- think of the alternatives and pack your pack.

Don't forget your hat, sunscreen and extra water bottle.

... Justin

MARCH, 6/8th, Fri/Sunday: BOONOO BOONOO - Throughwalk

Details: Same as for Boonoo Boonoo Basecamp except leader is Ken McCarron (349 6046)

We will leave Brisbane at 7.15pm sharp on the Friday night as it is a fairly long drive to Boonoo Boonoo camping the night at Undercliffe Falls where we'll start the walk.

Next morning we will start walking fairly early down Bookookoorara Creek. The day walk will be down a rock-fill granite creek with several water falls to go around. There are several large swimming holes which we will stop at if we have time. That night we should camp at the junction of Boonoo Boonoo/Bookookoorara Creek and go to sleep with the sound of running water in the creek nearby.

Up the next morning to walk up into a more open creek. It will be easier going than Saturday but it could be a lot warmer. That afternoon we will approach Boonoo Boonoo waterfall through a rock boulder creek. We will then ascend the waterfall by the right ridge. Here we will meet the Basecampers who will take us home.

EDITORIAL

Martin Luther/^{King} at the beginning of his famous speech said: "I have a dream". So, too, did the Founding Members of B.C.B.C. have a dream - a Catholic Walking Club.

Without the past there is no present, without the present there is no future. For those who have been before and have kept the Club alive for you to-day, so you to-day must keep the Club alive for tomorrow.

The members love of the bush and common faith have carried the Club from 1957 to the present, enabled us to form new friendships, new skills and the chance to find ourselves. But, like any organisation, the Club can't run without a committee. There must be people willing to organise and assist in the many jobs that have to be done to keep the Club running smoothly.

The Club is you - yes, you are the Club. Become involved - whether it be a committee position, assisting the committee, or leading walks. As emergency officer, spreading the word, helping visitors (less experienced walkers than ourselves), even washing up after the meeting. Yes, many hands make light work.

Say thank you to those of the past, keep the Club alive for tomorrow. For I, too, have a dream that B.C.B.C. will be here for the next generation and future generations to come.

Who knows? The Club might last longer than the bush ...

... Justin

P A S T O U T I N G S:

SPRINGBROOK, Daywalk: 11th January

Bring your mother, father, sister and friend and this is what they did, as at 8am 39 "St. Stephen Warriors" boarded a bus under blue skies bound for Springbrook.

Along the way, a quick comfort stop and tour of the Hinze Dam was made. We arrived at the Canyon Lookout about 10.05am to be joined by a few more warriors waiting to greet us and to overlook the coast and the Numinbah Valley, expecting an easy, picturesque day walk of luscious rainforest and numerous waterfalls.

Mary and Cathy walked the Twin Falls Circuit and our trek began at 10.20am with Brett leading the way. We paused at the lookouts to admire the vast and beautiful scenery below. Making good time, we stopped for about half an hour for morning tea. Afterwards, Eugene and Jonas lent a helping hand to rock hop across the falls. (Thanks, Eugene and Jonas). Barney renewed our energy by bringing along an extra large block of chocolate (a present from Santa) which we all shared.

After a short walk to the "Meeting of the Waters", at the Gooroolba Falls it was decided to stop for lunch because many of us could not resist the water and decided to go for a swim. Barney initiated Jo and, in return, received a screaming response. A hearty lunch was then devoured by all. Phil's menu of bar-b-que sausages was featured once again. Of the ten kilogram watermelon to be consumed for lunch, only the skin remained. (Thank you Justin for carrying the heavy weight).

Snakes and lobsters were encountered along the way. While others stood back, Brett tried to make friends with the snake but it was a slippery situation. We continued the circuit. After a short stop for afternoon tea, it was time for Justin once again to try the water. We then proceeded on to Twin Falls where we had a final swim and a ponder over one of the many waterfalls we had visited.

Finally, it was back up to Canyon Lookout to overlook a very clear sight of the Gold Coast and its hinterland. On completing the Warrie Circuit Track, where Warrie means "rushing", it was not hard to see why this was so for all the rushing water we all had encountered.

Leaving Springbrook at 5.20pm, we arrived back at about 7 o'clock. I would like to thank Border Coaches, especially Finn, our driver, and all the members and visitors: Loretta, Diana, Sue D., Dan, Desley P., Michael, John B., Phil, Ken, Greg, Barney, Anna, Catherine, Mary, Cathy, Pat, Jonas, Brett, Frances, Margaret, Marina, Doug, Ann, Leoni, Pauline, Margi, Sue S., Eugene, Veronica, Tony, Benot, Justin, Paul and Kevin, and offer a warm welcome to Jo, Greg, Liz, Jacinta and the family and friends of Sue D. who were on their first walk.

It was agreed that a delightful day was had by all. Michael will consider nominations for the Emmy Awards after he reviews his video of the day's activities.

SARA RIVER THROUGHWALK: 23rd/26th January

"More Than a Name on a Map"

Over the last five years since the last Guy Fawkes River T.W., the Sara River was an area about which little was known by the Club. Well, it was worth the long drive to Glen Innes. We were blessed by pleasant weather.

After the early morning car shuffle to Glen Nevis Lookout, we dropped down an open forest ridge to the Sara River, near its junction with Chain of Ponds Creek. With the New England Tableland behind us, we commenced rock-hopping downstream. This soon gave way to grassy banks. The walking was not strenuous and around each river bend was something of interest. Occasionally a wallaroo was startled and this dark, muscular animal would bound up the steep slopes.

We had developed a steady walking rhythm which was interspered with river crossings. At Dead Man's Point we made camp. Here the river descended through a rocky gorge and gave the opportunity for a swim. A pleasant evening around the campfire followed.

On Sunday, our journey along the river continued with larger pools and smaller rocks. After smoko, we reached an abandoned gold mine with old excavations and machinery. This led to Balland's Flat, an old clearing with a grassy airstrip. Here we reached the National Park boundary and the air immediately felt cleaner.

After a leisurely lunch and swim, we headed for the junction of the Sara and Guy Fawkes Rivers. Some beautiful, large trees line the river including Anghorara, Forest Red Gum and Grey Gum. On reaching the junction, we continued downstream to our campsite. This was a grassy shelf above a large, deep pool. We were treated to an impressive starry sky as we camped without tents. It was a very relaxing evening and it hardly rained at all in the early morning.

At 4.30am we rose to finish the walk down the Boyd and commence the ridge walk back to Glen Nevis Lookout. We were fortunate to have a cool morning. At the lookout by 10am, there was a good view of the valley. This 3-day throughwalk, gives one the chance to relax, which is not often obtainable on shorter walks. Thanks to Chris Dower, Monica Casey, Ken and Justin for being good company. See you in the Washpool Wilderness next year.

FEATURE ARTICLE:Our Relationship with the Earth

The two hundred years of European settlement in Australia have brought vast changes to this country, not the least of these being of an ecological nature. So called "civilised" man has cleared vast tracts of natural vegetation to support his "civilised" lifestyle. He has cleared the great forests for his crops and animals and, of course, for his cities, towns and heavy industry.

His lifestyle has caused considerable damage and disruption to the balance of nature. He has introduced noxious weeds and pests and has introduced domestic animals, game animals and beasts of burden all of which, in one way or another, have been responsible for disrupting the balance of nature and in some cases, the extinction of certain species. The original inhabitants of Australia were forcibly dispossessed of the land within the past two centuries.

For many centuries prior to the arrival of "civilised" western culture, aboriginal people had lived in this vast land. Estimates considered to be reliable, had placed the aboriginal population at 115,000 at the time of commencement of European colonisation. These people had lived in total harmony with the earth. They did not clear the forests. They did not tear gaping holes in the earth's surface. They treated the earth with awe and reverence.

These people were fortunate in that they knew this land as The Creator had created it. They preserved the land as they had found it. Their intimate relationship with this land was fundamental to their very existence. Aboriginal culture is rich in legend and folklore, and those stories explain how certain landmarks came into being or how they came to be called a certain name. For example, Mt. Barney in South East Queensland, was known as "Baga Baga" to the aborigines of the area.

Legend has it that a wicked uncle tried to do away with his young nephew by sending him into a cave and lighting a fire at the entrance. The nephew escaped through a small hole in the far end of the cave and when the uncle went into see if the nephew had suffocated, the nephew lit another fire and suffocated the uncle. As the nephew first entered the cave, the uncle was calling out, "Bogar Bogar" (further, further) to coax the nephew to his death.

Undoubtedly, such a story would not do justice to a place of such power and of such prominence in the landscape as Mt. Barney. There is no doubt a far more significant tale concerning Mt. Barney, but unfortunately that tale appears to have been lost with the passing of the aborigines of the area who were still familiar with their culture and their folklore.

The story of the wicked uncle is taken from a book written by J.G. Steele, "Aboriginal Pathways in South East Queensland and the Richmond River", 1983, University of Queensland Press. This excellent book is thoroughly recommended to all those who wish to know more about the land in which we reside and understand more about the people who originally populated it. Unfortunately, this book is presently out of print but it is understood that it will be re-printed in May, 1987.

THINKING CATHOLIC:A Meditation

.. by Cardinal Newman

God has created me to do Him some definite service: He has committed some work to me which He has not committed to another. I have my mission - I may never know it in this life, but I shall be told it in the next.

I am a link in a chain, a bond of connection between persons. He has not created me for naught. I shall do good. I shall do His work. I shall be an angel of peace, a preacher of truth in my own place while not intending it - if I do but keep His Commandments.

Therefore I will trust Him. Whatever, wherever I am, I can never be thrown away. If I am in sickness, my sickness may serve Him; in perplexity, my perplexity may serve Him; if I am in sorrow, my sorrow may serve Him. He does nothing in vain. He knows what He is about. He may take away my friends. He may throw me among strangers. He may make me feel desolate, make my spirits sink, hide my future from me - still He knows what He is about.

FROM AN 85-YEAR OLD FRIEND:

Dearest Valentine, wont you always be mine? I have the sweetest, most precious Valentine. He is so faithful and so kind I don't have to wait for Valentine's Day to have him in my heart.

He is not hard to be found. He has all the answers to my heart. How can my heart be lonely when he is in my heart all the time. Wont you have him for your Valentine, too?

God is the most precious Valentine I ever knew and there is nothing he wouldn't do for you. God, my Lord, pour down forgiveness from heaven like dew, as I lay my heart opened to you. Teach me to be faithful and loving as you, Lord. Pour down forgiveness from heaven like dew.

- Beatrice Dine, U.S.A.

KEEP A WATCH FOR BIRDS WITH LEG BANDS:

The National Parks and Wildlife Service has asked people to be on the lookout for birds with metal bands on their legs. The tiny bands provide useful information about movement patterns, life expectancy and general behaviour. This knowledge is essential to plan for effective conservation of native species and for the control of pests.

Anyone who finds a live, healthy bird should record the details of the band and species and let the bird go. If the bird is dead, the band should be removed and sent to: The Secretary, Australian Bird and Bat Banding Schemes, Australian National Parks and Wildlife Service, P.O. Box 8, Canberra, A.C.T., 2601.

Banding has shown that certain species move from Australia to countries as far-flung as the Soviet Union, China, Japan, Chile, and Antarctica - which highlights the need for international conservation measures. Birds also move long distances within Australia. Straw-necked ibis banded in Western and South Australia were found later in north Queensland. Banding has shown that magpies live as long as 20 years and tiny yellow robins live up to 12 years.

For further information about the scheme, telephone (062) 466 180.
